The American Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

If this is not the best Stove in use, why so many attempts to infringe upon it? This suit was brought to sustain the Patent and to stop the infringements, and after a most thorough legal investigation these rights were promptly decided, fully sustaining this Patent

More than Ten Thousand of these Stoves are now in use The testimony of this multitude the past year, establishes the fact beyond a doubt that there are more good and useful qualities combined in this Stove than ever was or probably ever will be found in any other Stove The fire brick oven top is of great value in equalizing the heat around the oven absorbing the steam, causing the bread &c to rise and bake light and quick—and giving bread, puddings &c that flavor of the home brick oven The kitchen for roasting in front, is complete The summer arrangement for broiling frying boiling heating of irons, &c is admirable—The great economy of fuel, substantial construction and general good quality of this Stove is the cause of its universal admiration

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1848.

☞ A sound and accomplished orator of our times, has truly said that "no man can adequately describe the triumphs of Labor. It has extorted the secrets of the universe, and trained its powers into myriad forms of use and beauty. From the bosom of the old creation, it has developed anew, the creation of industry and of art. It has been its task and its glory to overcome obstacles. Mountains have been levelled and vallies exalted before it. It has broken the rocky soil into fertile glebes, it has crowned the hill tops with fruit and verdure, and bound around the very feet of ocean, ridges of golden corn. Up from sunless and hoary deeps up from the shapeless quarry, it drags its spotless marbles, and rears its palaces of pomp. It tears the stubborn metals from the bowels of the globe, and makes them ductile to its will. It marches steadily on, over the swelling flood, and through the mountain clefts. It fans its way through the winds of ocean, tramples its hoarse surges, and ravages them with flakes of fire. Civilization follows in its path. It achieves grander victories, it weaves more durable trophies, it holds wider sway than the conqueror. His name becomes tainted, and his monuments crumble, but Labor converts his red battle fields into gardens, and erects monuments significant of better things. It rides in a chariot driven by the wind. It writes with the lightning. It sits crowned a queen in a thousand cities, and sends its roar of triumph from a million whirring wheels. It glistens in the fabrics of the loom, it rings and sparkles from the steely hammer. It grows in shapes of beauty, it speaks in words of power, it makes the sinews strong with liberty, the poor man's heart rich with content and crowns the swarthy and sweaty brow with honor, and dignity, and peace.

Human labor then is the great foundation principle of prosperity and of progress. In hand labor or head labor, in some of their various departments, it is the duty of each to work, and in the department where we, as a people possess capacity to supply some want, moral, mental or physical it is the duty of all to engage. Labor is of divine appointment.

*Teachers' Institute—Penobscot Co.

FRIDAY—AFTERNOON

Exercise in Arithmetic continued by Mr Warren, and promiscuous questions answered.

The unfinished business and deferred questions were then taken up by the different members of the Board of Instruction, and answered to the great satisfaction of the Institute.

Mr Worcester then recapitulated the history of the present session of the Penobscot County Teachers Institute and expressed his gratitude for the very commendable deportment and effort of the members during its exercises.

The Institute then resolved itself into a convention and appointed Mr Saml Coombs of Bangor Chairman. The Board of Instruction was then addressed by Mr H F Haynes of Corinth in behalf of the Institute, as follows:

Gentlemen of the Board of Instruction

The duty devolves upon me to address you in behalf of the ladies and gentlemen of the Institute to address you in behalf of the two hundred and fifty teachers who are now assembled before you to give an expression of their feelings towards you as instructors and individuals. As a model school we have assembled here from day to day you in the capacity of teachers, we of pupils. We have listened to your instructions may we follow your precepts. Gentlemen, as you have imparted to us practical knowledge, we will endeavor to be practical teachers, as you have recommended the practice of virtue, that principle will we all inculcate, as you have said the teacher should be just, temperate, social, polite, these things will we remember. We believe that you have given instruction in the fear of God, and in the love of mankind. With the noblest motives and for the success of the noblest of causes have you toiled. We feel conscious that duty and patriotic sentiment have directed you in your arduous and responsible trusts. We would appreciate your efforts and remember your kindness. But the day is fast waning and the hour is at hand, when we must seperate from each other, and from you, and each must take his appointed place on the watch tower of liberty, and guard well the infant spirits of our republic, and wage an eternal war against vice and superstition. Should providence spare us all through the circle of another year it is very probable, that even within that brief period, many of us will be called to other duties and other scenes and that all these countenances will never meet your gaze again this side the shadows of the tomb. As this may be to us a final seperation, permit us respected, beloved Instructors to express to you not, in unmeaning language, our high appreciation of your services, our profound respect for you as gentlemen, and our lasting obligations to you for your kindness, faithfulness and forbearance.

Brief addresses were then made by Messrs Warren, Worcester, and Litchfield. A few very appropriate songs were sung, after which the parting hand was extended to the members of the Board of Instruction.

Thus terminated this interesting and instructive session.

A school of ten days duration, composed of two hundred and fifty teachers convened in the capacity of learners, with an intense desire of obtaining the best method of communicating mental and moral instruction to the young and eagerly inquiring mind. The teachers' Institute is indeed the Peoples school.

May they long continue, and may those who enjoy their benefits remunerate the State which fosters them by a devotion to the cause they advocate, that shall establish the highest ideal of their unpretending fame.

IRELAND'S WELCOME TO THE STRANGER, or an excursion through Ireland in 1844 and 1845 for the purpose of personally investigating the condition of the Poor. By A. Nicholson, New York, Baker and Scribner 1847, pp 456.

A patient, pious, humanity-loving, God-serving woman goes on a pilgrimage to the mountains and bogs, the cabins and homes of the poor in Ireland and notes the scenes which there offered themselves to her observation. She eats and prays with the poor in their sadness—her sympathy unlocks their hearts until all secrets are forgotten. This work is the simple and touching relations of this woman and truthful picture of what she saw and of the real state, in all forms of the poor of Ireland. Here are presented to the reader the real life of Ireland the oppressed and wretched of Ireland—the rustic as he is—the seemly and the unseemly, the beautiful and the deformed—a mixture of sadness and of mirth.

We should be glad to furnish extracts showing the style of the author and the touching character of many of the incidents, but must content ourselves with this notice of the work and referring our readers to the book itself, which may be found at Duren's Bookstore, in Gothic Block.

What John Bull thinks of Free Trade—and which party he regards as the friends of British Interests.

We have seldom met a paragraph which better expressed the real relations of the two leading parties in this country, to Mr John Bull's interests than the one below from the Kingston (Canada) British Whig. It tells the whole story right out in nut shell form:

"It would appear by our telegraphic Report, that General Taylor has been elected President of the United States of America. Prior to the election the hopes of the Whig party were very strong, and it is seen by the result that their hopes were well founded. We hardly know whether we should congratulate the country on this elevation of General Taylor or not. He himself is an estimable man, and his party is composed of nearly all the wealth and intelligence of the Union, but on the other hand, that party is and ever has been opposed to the low tariff and the introduction of British goods. The cry is protection for native productions. Whereas General Cass and the Democrats, although opponents in speech to Great Britain and her interests, have always advocated a low Tariff and Free Trade. Thus while the Whigs speak the fairest to Great Britain, and treat her with the utmost courtesy, they close the ports to her merchandise and manufactures, while the Democrats, furious in denunciation, and threatening war every instant, nevertheless freely admit and consume the commodities of the nation they provoke."

There will probably be a full and fashionable audience on this evening as on the delivery of the last lecture.

"It is no Sectional Triumph,"

Is the general exclamation of the Whig Press and of all who love the Union and the Constitution. Nearly a hundred votes have been given for the President elect from the Free States, and with as much good will as if Zachary Taylor had been born in our own New York. In the same spirit, a Southern vote has been given for a Northern Vice President, and in both cases pledges have not been exacted. Both were Whigs in opinion, in principle,—and as such, those who voted for them knew they would uphold the Constitution and the laws, for all this is the very initiative of the Whig creed. The country was disgusted with "Northern men with Southern principles, as Mr Van Buren was, when President, and as Mr Cass would have been, if elected. Nor has it any confidence in such ultra politicians as John C Calhoun, who in common with the ultra Abolition party of the North, have done more to create a spirit of disunion than all the men who have lived, and all the circumstances which have transpired since the formation of the Government. The election of General Taylor and Millard Fillmore, by a vote free from all sectional feelings and by a vote of least one half the thirty States of the Union, and with one half this whole about equally divided between the Free and Slave States as States (though numerically the Electoral votes from the Free States will prove the largest,) cannot fail to result in the greatest good. Mr Van Buren's election, had it been possible, would have been a purely sectional victory, for no State south of Mason and Dixon's line could have been expected to vote for him. General Cass's election would have been mainly a Southern and not a national result. Gen Taylor's election, on the contrary, is neither a Southern nor a Northern, but purely a Constitutional and American triumph. South Carolina would not vote for him, because, though from Louisiana, he was in feeling less a Southern sectional candidate than Lewis Cass, born in New England, and a resident of a Free State.

We have, then, a President, who, most fortunately for the country, occupies the best possible position for administering the Government in a manner calculated to command the confidence of all sections of the country. Notwithstanding the many jarring elements which make up that aggregate of popular discord which agitates the public mind, we hope and believe that General Taylor's administration will be able to bring order out of confusion, and establish permanent harmony between all the States of the Union. We do not suppose, that agitation will be at an end, or that the era shall come, that would be the incoming of the Millennium. But we do hope that under an enlightened, liberal and National Administration, all mere professional political agitators will be frowned down by the good sense and patriotism of the People.

The North has shown that confidence in General Taylor's personal honesty and nationality of sentiment which warrants from him the most exalted sentiments in the Administration. It was not the military genius of our hero, nor his skill, nor his courage, which made him acceptable to the North, but rather an admiration for a man whose pride it is to restore the Government to the good old times of the early Presidents,—when with all rulers there seemed to be a singleness of purpose, and that purpose the best interests of the whole country. The election of Gen Taylor is not only the popular approval of such a man and such an Administration as we have pointed out, but a condemnation of just such an Administration as we have had, and a direction to those who administer the Government to "right about face," and put the ship of State upon the other tack. All this can be done, and will be done, in a manner the least calculated to give offence to opponents of General Taylor, but it will unquestionably be done, —done well and done quickly, after the fourth of March next. For all disunionists, by common consent, whether they hail from the North or the South, we trust no mercy will be shown.

Obituary.

General James Taylor one small remnant of the Pioneer Fathers and an active spirit of the West in the days of its early settlement died in his 80th year at Newport, Ky on the 7th. He has left behind him a numerous circle of relations and friends, children and grand children.

General Taylor was born at Midway, in the county of Caroline Virginia, on the 19th of April, 1769. He emigrated to Kentucky in 1792 and the following year settled upon the spot where he died. He was a quartermaster general of the North Western Army in the last war with Great Britain, and is noticed in histories referring to those times as "active in the discharge of the important duties which devolved upon him." The same histories relate, that when Gen Hull surrendered Detroit to the British, General James Taylor was one of the first officers called upon to assist in drawing up the articles of capitulation, but he with the others, indignantly refused any participation in an act so disgraceful to the American arms. The deceased was a cousin of General Zachary Taylor, and his last public act before leaving the works of Time for the rewards of Eternity, was to vote for the Taylor and Fillmore Presidential Electors in Kentucky—which he did being waited upon by one of the judges of election about five hours before his death. In this connection, it may be apposite to mention,—which we do on the authority of one of his old friends—that his first public act was bearing to Richmond Va as deputy Sheriff under his father, the vote of Caroline county at the first election of George Washington.

Gen Taylor has been an invalid for a number of years, during the last two or three of which he suffered much from his bodily infirmities. He is now gone—one of the last of the Pioneers to leave the banks of the beautiful Ohio, as he was one of the first to "make his home upon them, and adorn it first with the necessaries and comforts then the refinements and elegances of life.—[Cin Gaz.

Thought of the Dead.

The thought of the dead makes us gentle and childlike, and leads us to forget ourselves, as well it may. For we know that according to St Paul's teaching, the spirits of just men made perfect are not far from us. We are come to them and they are come to us. They can touch us and we can touch them, they are guiding by every hour. The spirit has not ceased to act upon and through the body, and so we do not see them in their places. They keep threading in and out among us, going up and down, and moving round about us, especially as we believe from St John, in holy churches where their bodies rest in hope—(Rev vi) They are the first ranks of the church who have gone before us in the Lord, so far as to be out of sight. They are beyond our view. They may see us, we cannot see them.

A Salutary Thought.

When I was a young man, there lived in our neighborhood a Presbyterian, who was universally reported to be a very liberal man, and uncommonly upright in his dealings. When he had any of the produce of his farm to dispose of he made it an invariable rule to give good measure, over good, rather more than could be required of him. One of his friends, observing his frequently doing so, questioned him why he did it, told him he gave too much, and said it would not be to his own advantage. Now, my friends mark the answer of this Presbyterian—God Almighty has permitted me but one journey through the world, and when gone I cannot return to rectify mistakes.' Think of this, friends but one journey through the world.—James Sampson.

The Boston Bee says that the Rev T Parker stated in his sermon on Sunday, that there was a court in Boston which contained sixteen tenements each of which contained several families, and of the children born in this one half were born blind, and the eyes of the other half more or less defective.

It is said that if a few enterprising Yankees would go to Bermuda and buy some of the very cheap land there, they would make a fortune by the sale of the products. Bermuda could control the whole vegetable market of New York during the winter and spring. We might have new potatoes in every winter month.

Prentice complains, in the Louisville Journal that the Yankee girls who come West do very little in the way of teaching. Instead of teaching other people's children, they soon get to teaching their own.

Love to Obey.

If there was no obedience in families, there could be no comfort there. If pupils refused to obey the directions of their teacher, they would lose the benefit of his instructions. They would deserve to be deprived of the privilege of attending school. If in nations the laws were not regarded, there would be no safety for the people. Therefore, the principle of obedience is the principle of order and happiness.

A droll story is going the rounds, of an honest old farmer who, attempting to drive home a bull, got suddenly hoisted over the fence. Recovering himself he saw the animal on the other side of the rails sawing the air with his head and neck, and pawing the ground. The good old man looked steadily at him a moment, and then shaking his fist at him, exclaimed, D—n your apologies you needn't stand there, you tarnal critter, a bowin' and scrapin'—you did it a purpose, darn you."

Near Brandon, Miss, Hughes, contractor on the railroad, was taken by Blake and Atway, whom he employed, tied up and whipped severely, and left for dead. But he recovered and killed both Blake and Atway with an axe in their sleep. Being arrested, he confessed the deed.

Fire.

The alarm of fire this morning about two o'clock came from the wooden block of stores on Middle Street, owned by John Mussey, Esq and the heirs of Capt Wm McLellan and occupied by Messrs Geo H Gruchy Jeweller, and Boothby & Harmon hat and fur dealers.

We understand that the most valuable portion of the stock of Mr Gruchy was removed, while but a small portion of that of Boothby & Harmon was saved. The former we learn had an insurance of $1000—the latter, $1800 at one of the Hartford offices, J C Churchill Agent. There was also we were told an insurance on the building. These are all the particulars we could obtain before going to press this morning.

When the fire was first discovered, it appeared to be in the back part of the store occupied by Boothby & Harmon but it soon spread throughout the whole building leaving but a mere shell when the fire was subdued.—Portland Advertiser.

Marine Disaster.

The Captain and crew of the brig Lizardo, of Bath, arrived here on Saturday, in the Sardinian brig Dado, they having abandoned their vessel at sea, and from the captain we learn the following particulars: October 27th, when in lat 68 45, lon 38 10, at 11 A M, while scudding, a sudden shift of wind caused the vessel to broach to, and was knocked down on her beam ends. After cutting away her mainmast, she righted with three feet water in her hold and a complete wreck. On the 28 saw a vessel which proved to be the bark Charles Watkins, of Thomaston. We requested him to take us off, but he could not, as he had lost his boats, head of his rudder, sails &c. The last we saw of him he was standing to the southward. On the 29th, succeeded in pumping her out. On the 30th, lat 37 21, lon 60 30, was taken off by the Sardinian brig Dado. They saved nothing but what they stood in.—N Y Ex press.

FREE CHURCH IN BANGOR.

The "Prudential Committee of the Central Congregational Society," give notice that said Society was organized in this city, and a Church instituted in connection with the same, eighteen months since, with the intention to test the voluntary principle in the support of public worship. Divine service was established at Market Hall, and although the Church has encountered some disadvantages the congregation worshipping with it has been regularly increasing, and the enterprise is no longer regarded as an experiment. Public worship has been sustained entirely by the voluntary offerings of individuals.

The Committee wish further to state that they have engaged Prof Shepard of this city, to take charge of the pulpit for a year from this date. With this experience of the past and the promise of the future the Society feel encouraged to pursue an enterprise, undertaken for no private ends, but solely for the promotion of religion and morals in this growing city.

The seats at Market Hall are offered free to such families or individuals as choose to worship there.

☞ A grand test of Buchan's Hungarian Balsam is now offered to the desponding invalid, viz:

The astonishing success of this Medicine, in the cure of Pulmonary Diseases, warrants the American agent in soliciting for treatment and he does solicit the worst possible cases that can be found in the community—cases that seek relief in vain from any of the common remedies of the day, and have been given up by the most distinguished Physicians as confirmed and incurable. The Hungarian Balsam has cured and will cure the most desperate cases. It is no quack nostrum but a great English Medicine, of known and established efficacy.

Pamphlets respecting this Great English Remedy may be had gratis of DAVID BUGBEE and G. W. LADD, only agents in Bangor. 3td&w—n30

The Great Remedy for Gonorrhœa

GLEET, Stricture, and all analagous complaints, is Dr. DOUGLASS'S ARABIAN PASTE. Dr Douglass is well known, having practiced in the principal cities in the Union during the last 40 years. He only reason for introducing the Paste in this public manner is the consciousness that there are thousands of ill treated complaints in this city—thousands of individuals who are going down to premature graves by taking the miserable drugs of quacks

Dr D most solemnly affirms that during his practice of forty years this Paste has never, in one single instance failed of effecting a cure in a few days without any change of diet or hindrance from business. He has had some of the most stubborn cases—cases that have resisted the regular course of treatment adopted by our first physicians, for months and even years but after taking the Paste for a few days the angry symptoms disappeared, and the patients were discharged, entirely cured

If the unfortunate instead of dragging themselves with quack nostrums, would purchase only one box of the Arabian Paste, we should not see so many emaciated bodies and sallow countenances as we do at the present time

If In case this Paste should fail to effect a cure in the shortest possible time, the whole price paid for it will be given the purchaser on returning the empty boxes

For sale only by the original inventor and sole proprietor Dr PETER G DOUGLASS, at his Office No 55 Union street Boston at $5 per box where he can be confidently consulted on every disease incident to the human frame, and the patient rely upon the most beneficial course of treatment that can possibly be adopted

Important Discovery

GRAY HAIR can be restored to its original color, whether Auburn, Brown or Black Beauty. Light or Red Hair can be matched with any darker shade, surpassing in beauty even the most natural locks, restoring the gloss and softness of the original Hair, by using O M Ballard's

Permanent Liquid Hair Dye,

Of one preparation which is entirely different from all others ever introduced Hair Dye now before the public Is free from all injurious properties, which can be tasted by a lock, a look at the first application will reveal a colour and order it with the eye which will not impose on the glass or the most fastidious. It is the agent which is the strongest evidence that can be given in that respect. On the contrary, it improves the lustre of the Hair, prevents its growing, and prevents it from falling out, and in short their preparation, (of certain Hair in colors) and dye) will not expose failure, or wash out.

In short, from its peculiar delicacy, softness and easy application, it is worthy the attention of all who may wish to improve the color of the Hair, as it will make any shade, from a sandy to a jet black It is now used to an unreasonable extent, by persons who have prematurely turned gray and others whose Hair is of no desirable color which they restore or exchange for a beautiful Auburn, Brown or Black, without any additional preparation or the slightest trouble

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and Dock.

THE articles above named are the principal ingredients of this medicine With these, and others of vegetable origin are combined, designed to render them more active, and consequently more immediately effective

The Dock or rather a species of it now ranks as a medicinal plant second to no one of the vegetable kingdom With the aid of a distinguished chemist, whom the proprietor has consulted in the preparation of the compound he has successfully overcome the difficulty of preserving the extract of the root for any considerable length of time

For many years the proprietor has tested in his practice the efficacy of the principal substances of the compound and is perfectly satisfied that they possess all the properties which have been ascribed to them Recently he conceived the idea of uniting them, which has resulted in the production of the compound In this the ingredients are found to act in harmony and to lose none of the qualities which they separately possess

A larger portion of Sarsaparilla is soluble than has generally been supposed The extract need to be relied on and least liable to decomposition is procured by subjecting the root to the action of the menstrua usually employed in extracting its virtues, for a long time, without heat or any other accelerating agent None is permitted to be used in the compound that has not been obtained by this process and that has been less than a year in preparation

The Compound is recommended for Scrofulas Erysipelas, Ulcerous affections, Eruptions, and Mercurial diseases Also for the numerous maladies arising from sedentary employments, occupations of a harassing and fatiguing nature, intense application, exposures to extremes of heat and cold, overtasking the physical powers and other abuses of the constitution among which are Neuralgia, Piles, Affection of the Liver, Bilious Complaints and Dyspepsia or Indigestion

In diseases of warm climates, with which the proprietor become familiar in his practice in Havana some years since, the compound will prove particularly efficacious, both as a remedy and a preventative

The medicine has been for some time in use in this city, where the proprietor has passed nearly half a century of his professional life It was extensively prescribed by him while in practice, and it is believed to be in favor with his medical brethren in general, to whom he is known

Those who have lost their muscular energy by the effects of medicine or indiscretion can instantly by the use of this pleasant remedy. This Sarsaparilla is far superior to any

INVIGORATING CORDIAL,

As it renews and invigorates the system, gives activity to the limbs and strength to the muscular system, in a most extraordinary degree.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Cases and Strength to Consumption can be cured by the use of Townsend's Sarsaparilla. Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Sore throat, Pain in the Side, Night Sweats, Hectic Flush, Night Sweats, Difficult or profuse expectoration, Pain in the Side, &c., have been and can be cured

SPITTING BLOOD!

New York, April 28, 1847

DR. TOWNSEND—I verily believe that your Sarsaparilla has been the means, through Providence, of saving my life. I have for several years had a bad cough It became worse and worse At last I raised in a quantity of blood, had night sweats, and was greatly debilitated in body, dosed and did not expect to live—I have only used Sarsaparilla a short time, and there has a wonderful change been wrought in me, and to the astonishment of all my friends. I raise no blood, and my cough has left me You can well imagine the thankfulness that these results

Your obedient servant,

WM RUSSELL, 65 Catherine st

RHEUMATISM

There is only one of more than four thousand cases of Rheumatism that Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla has cured. The most severe an Chronic cases are weekly eradicated by its extraordinary virtues

James Cunningham, Esq., one of the assistants in the Lunatic Asylum, Blackwell's Island, and the gentleman spoken of in the following letter

Blackwell's Island, Sept 14, 1847

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir, I have suffered terribly for nine years with the Rheumatism, consulted some of the first Doctors in the city, took all kinds of most medicines I have taken for female weakness and diseases By using a few bottles of this medicine, many severe and painful surgical operations may be prevented

GREAT BLESSING TO MOTHERS AND CHILDREN.

It is the safest and most efficacious medicine for purifying the system, and relieving the sufferings attending upon child birth ever discovered It strengthens both the mother and child, prevents pain and disease, increases and enriches the food—those who have used it think it an indispensable It is highly useful both before and after confinement as it prevents diseases attendant upon inactivity—in Costiveness, Cramps, Swelling of the Feet, Despondency, Heartburn, Vomiting, Pain in the Back and Loins, False Pains, Hemorrhage, and in regulating the secretions and equalizing the circulation it has no equal. The great benefit it has rendered in these cases, is always safe, and the most delicate are found successfully. very few cases require quite any other medicine—in some a little Castor Oil or Magnesia is useful. Exercise in the open air, and light food with this medicine, will always ensure a safe and easy confinement.

BEAUTY AND HEALTH

Cosmetics, Chalk, and a variety of preparations generally in use, when applied to the face, very soon spoil it of its healthy, by destroying the pores of the skin, and check the circulation, which, when nature is not thwarted by disease or powder, or the skin inflamed by the alkaline used in some, constitutes its own production in the "human face divine," as well as the garden of flowers A free, active and healthy circulation of the fluids or the blessing of the pure, rich blood to the extremities, is that which paints the countenance in the most exquisite beauty It is that which imparts the indescribable shades and flushes of love tones that all admire, but none can imitate. This beauty is the offspring of nature—not of powder or soap If there is not a free and healthy circulation, there is no beauty. If the lady is fair as driven snow, if she paint and use cosmetics, and the blood is thick, cold, and impure, the lily is beautiful, the rose brown or yellow, and there is pure and active blood, it is a rich bloom in the cheeks, and a brilliancy to their eyes, that is fascinating.

It is in the season why the southern, and especially the Spanish ladies, are so much admired. Ladies in the north can also look lovely as enemies or as soulless in close rooms, or have applied their complexion by the application of deleterious mixtures, if they wish to regain elasticity of step, buoyant spirits, sparkling eyes, and beautiful complexions, they should use Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla. Thousands who have used it, are delighted, and the Landlord of evergreen Island our office daily.

NOTICE TO THE LADIES.

Those that imitate Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla is invariably called their stuff a great remedy for females, &c., &c, and have copied our bills and circulars which relate to the complaints of women, word for word—other men who got up medicine have, since the great success of Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla in curing female complaints, recommended theirs although previously they did not. A number of these Mixtures, Pills, &c., are injurious to females, as they aggravate disease, and undermine the constitution.

SCROFULA CURED.

This Certificate speaks largely praise that the Sarsaparilla has power to control over the most obstinate disease of the blood. There persons enrolling one bottle is unprecedented

THREE CHILDREN.

Dr Townsend, Dear Sir—I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scrofula by the use of your excellent medicine.—They were afflicted very severely with bad sores, have taken only four bottles, it took them a very few days, for which I feel myself under great obligation. Yours respectfully

TESTIMONY OF ANOTHER PHYSICIAN

The following is an answer in reply to a note from our agent asking Dr. Boynton's opinion of this medicine

Bordentown, August 13, 1847

Mr A Durham—Dear Sir—In reply to your note of yesterday I would state that I have occasion frequent it convenient to use the various "Put up Pills" vended in the shops, and while I am unwilling to say anything to depreciate the value of others, I am free to confess the I consider Dr Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills superior to all others with which I am acquainted, I have used them for many years, both in my own family and in my practice generally, and they have uniformly proved safe, certain and sure in their operations. The care and skill with which these Pills have been hitherto manufactured, in my opinion, is sufficient guarantee for like good results in future
